3. Submission of AQAR 2017-18: This is to be submitted online in the new format given by NAAC. It has been filled up and submitted to the Principal for scrutiny. IQAC has still not received some financial data from the college office. The college needs to arrange these information, create IQAC portal, upload necessary documents in the portal. So that IQAC could submit the AQAR. As it is to be submitted immediately after approval of GB, the Principal assures that the service provider of the college website will be asked to create portal and upload the documents while Sri Sujit Mandal will complete typing of the filled up form for online submission. The IQAC members will check the typed copy before submission. In this connection Dr. D. Gupta suggests to install an Air Conditioner in Electronics Dept as entire task of AQAR has to be completed there. It is highlighted that entire Science building is abnormally hot and AC is required for all laboratories, although no assurance in this regard has been given by the Principal. However, she advises to use IQAC room where already an AC has been installed. IQAC members opine that the proposed room has no internet connection and it is also pointed out that IQAC team has to work against various odds which need to be addressed by the college administration.

Dr. D. Gupta also suggests that a system is to be generated to ensure regular submission of departmental data to IQAC. Dr. Sen intimates that most of the departments have taken almost six months to provide necessary data. It is resolved that henceforth departmental data should be submitted to the IQAC every three months.

Dr. M. Mitra in this connection points out that implementation of such system will be possible if the internet connection is provided to every department.

4. Results: Dr. D. Sen seeks information about the last published university result and requests to provide a report of the same. This is required for AQAR. It is decided that the office will provide the departments with tabulation sheets received from the University and the department will prepare the departmental results and forward to IQAC for records.

The members unanimously observe that these teachers are not getting their payments (Rs. 200/- per class only) regularly. They are not receiving payment for a prolong period. The Principal asserts that they have currently been paid up to the month of December' 2018.

It is requested that their payment must immediately be regularized otherwise this failure will ultimately impair the academic performance of students.

Dr. D. Gupta requests to arrange for the value added seminars which inspire the students. Principal observes that in absence of UGC fund it has become difficult to arrange seminars but if these seminars can be arranged within a nominal expense the college will be able to fund it.
