Report on the 'Say No to Plastic' Programme Organized by Durgapur Women's College

Date: August 14, 2024

Location: Daily Market, City Centre, Durgapur

On August 14, 2024, Durgapur Women's College, through its NSS, NCC, and Nature Club, organized a successful "Say No to Plastic" programme at the Daily Market, City Centre, Durgapur. The event aimed to raise awareness about the harmful effects of plastic on the environment and to encourage the community to adopt eco-friendly alternatives.

The day began with a rally that saw enthusiastic participation from students, faculty, and community members. The participants carried banners and placards with slogans advocating for a plastic-free environment. The rally started from the college campus and culminated at the Daily Market, a central location in City Centre, Durgapur, attracting significant public attention.

The principal of Durgapur Women's College was present to support the cause, reinforcing the college's commitment to environmental sustainability. She addressed the participants and the public, highlighting the urgent need to reduce plastic usage and switch to sustainable options.

The event also included an interactive session where NSS, NCC, and Nature Club members distributed pamphlets detailing the dangers of plastic pollution and shared tips on how to reduce plastic usage in daily life. The programme was well-received by the local community, who appreciated the college's efforts in spearheading such a meaningful initiative.
