Report on Students' Seminar on "Gender and Literature"

On the 26th of September, 2024, the Department of English at Durgapur Women's College organized a students' seminar on the topic of "Gender and Literature". The event took place in Room 218 and was well-attended by students and faculty alike.

The seminar was expertly mentored by Prof. Runa Chatterjee, who guided the students throughout the session. Under her mentorship, the participants delivered insightful presentations, each focusing on different aspects of gender representation in literary works. The students used PowerPoint presentations to explain their topics, effectively combining visual aids with their research.

The presentations were not only informative but also showcased the students' understanding of the intersection between gender and literature. They highlighted various critical perspectives, such as how gender roles are portrayed in different literary periods, the evolution of feminist literature, and the impact of gender norms on character development and plot construction.

The seminar concluded with the announcement of winners, who were recognized for their outstanding presentations. The winners were gifted as a token of appreciation for their hard work and excellence in academic presentation.

Overall, the seminar was a success, providing a platform for students to express their ideas and engage in meaningful discussions on gender issues within literature. The event was both educational and inspiring, leaving participants with a deeper understanding of the critical role gender plays in literary studies.
